About the Author and Book

Margaret Dilloway grew up in San Diego, California, the daughter of a Japanese mother and an American father, which inspired her first novel, How to Be an American Housewife.

The Care and Handling of Roses with Thorns is Margaret's ALA Reading List 2013 winning novel that follows 36 year old Gal Garner. Gail lives a regimented life, as her job teaching biology and her struggle with kidney disease keep her toggling between the high school, the hospital, and home on a strict schedule. Only at home, in her gardens, does Gal come alive. But even her passion, rose breeding, has a tangible and highly structured goal: Gal wants to create a new breed of rose, win Queen of Show in a major competition, and bring that rose to market...

Then one afternoon Gal's niece Riley, the daughter of her estranged sister, arrives — unannounced — and their lives will never be the same...
